

Anne-Kathrin Classen, Dr.

*10.07.1976, female, German

Institution: Centre for Biological Systems Analysis (ZBSA), University of Freiburg, Habsburgerstr. 49, 79104 Freiburg

Contact: Phone: +49-761-203-79109, Email: anne.classen@zbsa.uni-freiburg.de

Position: Independent Research Group Leader

Academic education including academic degrees

2000 – 2002 Master of Science (MSc) in Biomolecular Sciences, The University of Amsterdam, Netherlands
1997 – 2000 Bachelor of Science (BSc) in Cell Biology, The University of Manchester, UK

Scientific graduation

2002 – 2006 Dissertation, Dr. rer. nat. in Biology, Max Planck Institute of Molecular Cell Biology and Genetics and Technical University Dresden, lab of Dr. Suzanne Eaton

Employment

Since 2017 Independent research group leader, ZBSA, University of Freiburg
2016 – 2017 Emmy Noether Research Group Leader, ZBSA, University of Freiburg
2011 – 2016 Emmy Noether Research Group Leader, Institute of Human Biology and Bioimaging, Ludwig Maximilians University Munich
2006 – 2011 Postdoctoral fellow, University of California at Berkeley, USA

Other activities, awards and honours

Since 2016 Principal Investigator Speman Graduate School for Biology and Medicine (SGBM), University of Freiburg
2013 – 2016 Steering committee member of the Graduate School for Life Sciences Munich (LSM)
2013 – 2016 Member of the Board and Woman Representative for SFB1064 'Chromatin Dynamics'
2012 – 2016 Center of Advanced Studies 'Young Centre' Membership, LMU Munich
2011 – 2017 DFG Emmy Noether Programme Fellowship
2007 – 2010 Jane Coffin Childs Memorial Fund (JCCMF), USA; Postdoctoral Fellowship
2000 Honours School of Cell Biology, University of Manchester, UK; Jencons Prize